alfred marshall professor of economics at cambridge university 1885 1908 produced a distinguished crop of students many of them leaders in the economics profession in subsequent generations pigou keynes and denis robertson are undoubtedly the most famous of these marshall pupils but there were many more even if more minor forces in the development of early twentieth century economics this book intends to examine the major work of ten of these minor marshallians sydney john chapman 1871 1951 john harold clapham 1873 1946 charles ryle fay 1884 1961 alfred william flux 1867 1942 frederick lavington 1881 1927 walter thomas layton 1884 1966 david huchinson macgregor 1827 1953 joseph shield nicholson 1850 1927 charles percy sanger 1871 1930 and gerald francis shove 1888 1947 to name them in alphabetical order the broad aim of this book is to evaluate the more important contributions of these minor marshallians by selective examination of their major economic work that evaluation has at least two dimensions first it focuses on the significance of the author s individual contributions to the development of twentieth century economic thought secondly it attempts to assess the marshallian credentials of these contributions in order to indicate how marshallian in their economics these pupils of marshall s economics teaching actually stayed the economics of alfred marshall brings together a number of leading international scholars for a timely reappraisal of marshall s contribution to the development of economics the aims of the contributors are firstly to revisit the work of alfred marshall and to investigate the unity of his projects which contemporary authors often tend to underestimate and secondly to show how marshall s approach is not only a subject for historians of economic thought but may also provide a message that is relevant for the progress of economics the volumes in this set originally published between 1925 and 1990 draw together research by leading academics in the area of the history of economic thought the volumes encompass many different schools of economic thought with a focus on individual economic thinkers such as friedrich hayek adam smith and piero sraffa this set will be of interest to students of economics particularly students of the history of economic thought

john marshall 1755 1835 became the fourth chief justice of the u s supreme court despite having had almost no formal schooling and after having studied law for a mere six weeks nevertheless marshall remains the only judge in american history whose distinction derives almost entirely from his judicial career during marshall s nearly 35 year tenure as chief justice he wielded the constitution s awe inspiring power aggressively and wisely setting the supreme court on a course for the ages by ensuring its equal position in the triumvirate of the federal government of the united states and securing its role as interpreter and enforcer of the constitution marshall s judicial energies were as unflagging as his vision was expansive this four volume life of marshall received wide acclaim upon its initial publication in 1920 winning the pulitzer prize that year and makes fascinating reading for the lawyer historian and legal scholar
